

Corinne A. Beveridge specializes in residential and commercial landlord-tenant litigation, representing landlords and tenants in Supreme and Civil Courts throughout New York City, Westchester County, and Long Island. She, also, has extensive experience with contract litigation, as well as administrative hearings, development and construction matters, transactional disputes, post-judgment enforcement litigation and recovery, guardian ad litem matters, and criminal hearings. She previously worked with another landlord-tenant and general litigation firm.

Ms. Beveridge received her Juris Doctorate from Fordham University School of Law, and her B.A. magna cum laude from New York University. She is admitted to practice in New York, and a member of the New York County Lawyers Association and the New York State Bar Association [Real Property Law section]. She is proficient in Italian, and speaks some French and Spanish. She is a native New Yorker residing in Manhattan, and active in local property-related public hearings.
